NONOS

The Welte siblings produce three-dimensional, graceful female sculptures made of steel, bronze, carbon, epoxy resins, and lightfast pigments.

Franziska and Mercedes Welte are now considered specialists in figural, female sculptures, for which they have created the term NONOS.

The sisters have been working together on their œuvre since 2005. In the initial phase they realized figurative miniatures made of wire. Over time, the format and size of the works increased fruitfully. NONOS are sculptures with a distinctly feminine silhouette, which act as a kind of allegorical symbol of the joy of life. They represent a congenial fusion between art in its own way and the primordial feminine principles:

Love of heart, wisdom as well as beauty and mindfulness coupled with creative power are embodied in these works.
